GREAT WORLD SERIES SHOW HAS BEEN TRANSFERRED TO CLEVELAND

Red Cross is Preparing for Active Work

At a meeting of the executive Board of the Monessen-Belle Vernon Red Cross Chapter, convened last evening at the call of Chairman A. J. McGinnis, in the Citizens Bank, plans of far reaching scope were made, not only for conducting the Roll Call campaign, but for the help of local health as well. The chapter is now employing a nurse who is aiding the community in a most practical manner. Supplementing this work it is now proposed that the local Red Cross cooperate with the state authorities in helping to stamp out tuberculosis. Some time ago the state dispensary here was discontinued, since which time there has been no established headquarters for this work. If such quarters can be secured, the state will send a nurse and plans for sending patients to the state sanitarium at Cresson will bring this institution within the reach of all who desire its aid.

Miss Schollart, the present nurse, has been supplied with a Ford automobile in order to facilitate her work getting around numerous patients who need her help and advice.

The Roll Call in November will be pushed by all the forces of the local organization, aided by the woman's Federation. Mrs. John S. Duvall is chairman of the canvassing committee.

Prosecute Trespassers

In order to minimize rail accidents the annual death rate, of which is normally sufficiently great to warrant a drastic plan of action, police authorities of the Monongahela railroad will shortly be obliged to "tighten up" in their crusade against the trespasser.

This information was had last night in telephone conversation with Superintendent Orr of that company.

Superintendent Orr states that there is a decided increase in the number of transients and that it begins to look as though the company authorities will have to prepare for the annual fall migration.

Combatting the evils of railroad trespassing entails a mighty comprehensive plan, saying nothing about the additional expenditure placed upon companies in the supplying of road patrolmen whose duty it is to roundup the trespassers.

The year 1919-20 demonstrated the advisability of thorough and systematic police crusades, tending as it did to minimize accidents on the Monongahela road by an approximate 67 per cent. Decided decreases in the annual death rate on the Pennsylvania system was also insured by adoption of a comprehensive police roundup.

City police report an unusual heavy movement of transients for the month of September, estimated at an approximate increase of almost 45 per cent over the Fall migrations of the past six years. Many negroes, many from North and South Carolina, generally spoken of as "floaters" are being rounded up as undesirables in all sections of the state at present.

Minimum fines have been imposed in the past as a penalty for road trespassing but in order to curb new phases of this particular menace authorities may be obliged to insist on more severe sentences.

The roads admit the blind-baggage rider presents authorities with the most knotty problem arising from trespassing, due largely to his sly tactics in avoiding detection.

Property Transfers

The following transfers of real estate have been made in Monessen and vicinity:

Property in Monessen, East Side Land Co., to the borough of Monessen, for $1,200; July 12, 1920.

Property in Rostraver township, F. H. Steen, his wife, of North Belle Vernon to R. W. Lee, of Rostraver township, for $1,100; September 22, 1920.

Property in Rostraver township, Samuel Hileman of Fayette county, to R. F. Hileman of Monessen, for $800; December 26, 1918.

Property in Rostraver township, R. F. Hileman and Eliz. S. Hileman, his wife, of Wireton, to Frank H. Steen, of North Belle Vernon, for $1,000; September 15, 1920.

Property in Monessen, Kazimer Zawvicki and Emila Zawvicki his wife, of Monessen to James Ficco, of Monessen, for $2,500; August 25, 1920.

Property in Monessen, Karal Gloc and Rose Gloc, his wife of Monessen, to Kazimer Zawvicki, of Monessen, for $3,400; October 1, 1920.

The Ladies Aid Society of the First Christian church met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs W. O Beery on McKee avenue. Business was transacted and a lunch was served by the hostess.

Cox Raving

(By United Press)

En Route With Gov Cox, Paducah, Ky., Oct. 8---The political stake for which "the senatorial oligarchy" is playing in this campaign is "the absolute control of the United States supreme court," in addition to domination of the presidency and congress, Gov. James M. Cox charged in a statement here today as he opened his final day of stump campaigning in the south.

Predicting that four vacancies probably will occur in the supreme tribunal within the next four years, the Democratic candidate asserted that the Republican senate leaders in the exercise of their right to confirm or reject presidential appointments, would demand that Senator Harding, if elected "appoint four reactionary judges."

Cox Contributes

(By United Press)

New York, N. Y., Oct. 8---The Democratic campaign Fund was enriched today by a check for $5,000 from Governor Cox. The check in a plain envelope and without a letter of explanation, was received by Wilbur W. Marsh, treasurer of the Democratic committee.

Dentists Organize

The dentists of this city met yesterday afternoon in the Elks parlors on Seventh street and formed an organization and elected the following officers: Dr. G. T. Cornelius, president; Dr. G. T. Barben, vice president; Dr. Vesta Moyer, secretary, and Dr. B. L. Herron, treasurer.

John H. Wilson, of Butler, Democratic candidate for Congress in the Twenty-second district, was here yesterday looking after his political interests.

TEAMSTERS CAN'T GET COAL TO SUPPLY DOMESTIC DEMAND AND PRICES ARE SOARING

If the coal situation does not change within the next few weeks there will be untold suffering right here in the Monongahela valley, one of the most productive coal fields in the country. Last evening a retailer informed us that operators are asking the fabulous price of $11.50 a ton at the mine. This means fifty cents a bushel in the coal bin of the consumer.

Hundreds of families in Monessen are urging delivery men to fill their bins, but they are unable to get sufficient supply as long as the conditions remain as they are. This coal famine is not because of a lack of fuel, but because of an order issued by certain coal companies to furnish no coal for domestic purposes as long as cars are obtainable for shipment abroad. Thus hundreds of tons are going to distant points while our people at home are left to shift for themselves.

Small independent producers, who are selling their product at fabulous prices in car lots to big consumers, will not listen to orders for local trade at the maximum government price for domestic use. If this is the true motive, it is responsible for a condition that is causing suffering in the community which will continue and increase every day that the order is in force.

Many families in the community are without means of heating their homes or of preparing meals. Aged people and little children are suffering, and sickness and death will result. Churches and schools are very low in their stock, and if the order obtains much longer, these indispensable institutions will be obliged to close down.

Resigns Position

Mrs. Laura Emerson who for the past 14 years has been stenographer at the Page mill, has tendered her resignation and left today for a brief visit with her son at Steubenville. Mrs. Emerson has not decided upon the future and may accept a position elsewhere. She has many friends in town who will wish her well in whatever she undertakes. Her plans at the present time are indefinite but she expects to take an extensive vacation and rest for a time.

Discover Bomb

Hutchinson, Kansas, Oct. 1---A cylinder ball fifteen inches in circumference containing enough giant powder to blow up the viaduct, was fished from Cron's Creek by boys yesterday according to Chief of Police Knowles.

Family Dinner

Mrs. Harry A. Irwin entertained at a family dinner yesterday at her home on Reed avenue. Those present were Mr and Mrs D. L. McConnel of Houston, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Campbell of Monongahela, J. F. Van Voorhis of Charleroi, Mrs. R. V. Hayden, Mr. Walter Hayden and Miss Ruth Hayden of Elizabeth.

Mr and Mrs. Joseph Wilson of Pittsburgh are guests at the home of Mrs Robert Wilson of Fourth St. The visitors just returned from a two month tour of Ireland and Europe. They visited the battlefields of France.

Europe Almost at Peace Today

(By United Press)

London, Oct. 8---Europe was almost at peace today.

Dispatches from Warsaw said Polish-Rususia warfare had ended and that contact of the armies had been broken along the entire front. The Warsaw communique said hostilities along the Lithuanian front had ceased in conformity with the terms suggested by representatives of the League of Nations. Finland and Russia were planning to sign a peace treaty next week, terms agreed upon October 1.

The only place where hostilities continued was in Southern Russia where General Baron Wrangel's forces operated with other Bolshevist troops against the Soviets.

According to dispatches from Riga, the Soviets agreed to Poland's claim on the Lithuanian city of Vilna. Other success in that region was conceded. The Daily Chronicle printed an interview with Premier Leygues of France, saying Poland had been asked to show moderation in her demands on Russia. Leygues said he acted on advice of Great Britain.

Entertain Society

Mrs Kate C. Dorrkson was hostess yesterday afternoon for the Ladies' Aid of the Presbyterian church. There was a business meeting presided over by Mrs. A. N. Secrest, president of the Aid, after which there was a social hour. A lunch was served. Mrs. Jordan was assisted in serving by Mrs Lewis and Mrs Fox. The attendance was large.

Arrest Auto Driver

Joseph Rosenburg, who stated that he was a son of Mayor Rosenburg of McKeesport, was arrested last night in this city on a charge of reckless driving. He had $14.00 on his person and this was taken a forfeit for his appearance this morning for a hearing.

Not a Martyr

Editor McGinley of the Elizabeth Herald, reading of Lord Mayor MacSwiney fasting for fifty-five days, thought he would try the stunt in hopes of shaking loose from stomach in the Seventy-two hours. Prohibition was his limit and the editor soon went on regular diet.

World Series Ball Games at Cleveland

(By United Press)

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 8---The big world series show was being shifted today from Brooklyn to Cleveland. Various and assorted players, umpires, scribes and a few faithful fans are due here today to look over the new battlefield and prepare for resumption of hostilities tomorrow.

Cleveland, disappointed some by the setback of her Indians, but thrilled nevertheless with the novelty of a world's series in her own yard, anxiously awaited the arrival of Tris Speaker and his tribe to show the valiants that the home town is still behind them.

Unlike the fans of Flatbush, who failed to work up a thrill over the classic, the fans of the Forest City were talking baseball. General interest was very much more in evidence.

Despite the fact that the Brooklyn Robins are coming into the reservation of the Indians with a two to one edge on the series, the home folks were still confident that the American League champions would profit by the stay on friendly soil and emerge the winners.

As an act of courtesy, Speaker probably will allow the visitors to use the field this afternoon to get adjusted to the strange scenes if Uncle Robby chooses to work out train stiffness.

Tomorrow's game, the fourth of the series, is the opener of a brace of four games here. Play will start at 2 o'clock.

Covaleski, the Pole spitballer, who set the Robins back in the opening game, is considered as a sure starter here tomorrow. Following his policy of secrecy, Manager Speaker would give no tip on his plans before leaving New York.

Brooklyn's victory yesterday was figured by some of the experts as the turning point of the series.

Young Sewell and Ray Caldwell were jointly to blame for the defeat as conditions were, but Speaker was held at fault by many dopesters. The Indian manager was blamed for poor judgment in the selection of his pitcher and for tardiness in getting him relieved when it was apparent that he didn't have a thing.

Everyone expected "Duster" Mails, the sensational southpaw, to start the game and it was a great surprise when Caldwell was announced. From the very start it was obvious that he wouldn't last long. He was wild and ineffective.

Mails was rushed in to save a dead game after the two winning runs had been scored. The young southpaw was inclined to wildness but he pitched a game that might have won if he had been allowed to start.

Brooklyn played like champions. They had the attitude of winners, while Cleveland seemed to lose heart over the break in the first inning.

Cleveland's plight is not encouraging, although the home fans can't see anything but silver linings. Two of Speaker's trio, Bagby and Mails, have been used up for nothing, and Caldwell was found to be a poor gamble. Brooklyn, on the other hand, has Peiffer, Cadore, Mitchell and Mamauux in reserve. Cadore and Mamaux are uncertain but they are both good half game pitchers. Working together they have a good chance for a game.

One of the most surprising features of the series so far has been the strength of Brooklyn at a position pre-judged to be woefully weak ---at shortstop. Ivy Olson, instead of being a misfit, as some judged, has played sensationally. His work has been brilliant and spectacular. The Brooklyn infield as a whole has been a revelation, and the pitching all that was expected.

Census Change

(By United Press)

Washington, Oct. 8---Changes in the character and probably the size of the House of Representatives will follow announcement of results of the 1920 census, according to census bureau officials and congressmen today. Some of the anticipated changes are:

The size of the House may be increased to nearly 500 members, if the basis of representation is kept as it is now or it may be decreased by increasing the number of persons each congressman represents. The number of "city congressmen" will be increased and the number of "rural congressmen" decreased. Some states will gain more members if the basis of representation is unchanged. If it is changed many states will have fewer members.

The census results made public yesterday show there are 105,683,108 persons in the country, a gain of 13,710,842 or 14.9 percent since 1910.

Tech Freshmen Coming

Direct word has been received from Pittsburgh that Carnegie Tech Scouts were at Monessen last Saturday, covering the Monessen-Morgantown game. Last night Coach Townsend spent most of the evening in signal drill. Several of the shift plays were revised for the purpose of crossing the dope on the Tech Scouts. Two full teams were put through signal drill in order that the locals may be well fortified with substitutes.

Full back Veschio is suffering from a badly bruised hip but it is believed he will be able to start the game Saturday. Several other players are not in the best of condition, but have been practicing daily and will start in Saturday's game.

The forward pass attack has been greatly improved this week and in case the locals are unable to penetrate the heavy Tech line, this line of play will probably be used by the locals to a large extent. Monessen's line up will be changed little from last week as that seems to be the smoothest working combination available.

Carnegie Tech rules a 2-1 favorite over the locals in Saturday's game. The reason for this is that they outweigh the locals twenty pounds to the man and are selected from various big High schools. Peabody and Schenley High schools of Pittsburgh, Raven High and South High of Youngstown, and Donora High will all be represented on the Tech team.

While the local team is not making any boasts that they will win the game, yet they declare that they will fight to a finish with all of their energy to bring Monessen High school out on top.

OLYMPIC THEATRE

The vaudeville season opened at the Olympic theatre with capacity audiences at each performances and the patrons from all indications, enjoyed the program presented. Four high class acts are on the bill, including monologue, singing and dancing and the feature act of Weiser & Rose was alone worth the price of admission. Their Ethiopian eccentrics were well received. Other acts included Bernice & Van in comedy singing and dancing, with the girl jazz drummer. Jennings and McCabe, the King and Queen of Hats and Gossip Flamme, who entertained with songs and dances. The same bill will be repeated this evening. It

REPUBLICAN IN POLITICS

IMPRESSIONIST

Readers of newspapers may be said to belong to the impressionistic school. Like Mr. Dooley, they are apt to begin a speech with, "I see by the pa--pers," and they often forget to weigh the statement in the scales of their understanding before accepting it.

They even forget whether the statement quoted is news, advertising or editorial opinion, biased or unbiased. Therefore, readers of current advertising, in this paper, or any other, ought to remember that every advertiser pays for his own space and in entitled to present his views and arguments therein.

Furthermore, the advertiser is just as human as the reader, the editor or any other individual, and quite naturally he presents his own case as favorably as possible.

He is his own advocate and attorney and has every right to plead his own cause.

It is quite natural, for example, for a packing company to explain that its profit on a pound of beef is a fraction of a cent, and, therefore, it cannot possibly be responsible for the high cost of choice ruth.

Or a fabric company to assert that the indictment for profiteering against it was quashed by the court of hearing.

Or for a transportation company to assure you that the freight on a pair of shoes is only a nickel or so from factory to dealer, so you must see that freight rates cannot affect the price of shoes.

It is quite natural that no mention of the fact that the increased rate is charged on everything, on the raw materials, on the coal for factory steam, on lumber, concrete, steel, etc., for building rebuilding, or for hypothetical replacement on tools and machinery, and on the hides from the time the beast is first shipped to the time its hide reaches the shoe factory.

It is quite natural that the packing company neglect to explain the possible intricacies of bookkeeping, whereby the profits (indicated by increased capitalization and stock dividends) appear on the by-products rather than in the pound margin for beef, perhaps.

It is the tendency of the hurried reader, today, to forget to differentiate the impressions he receives from news dispatches, from editorial opinion and from advertising.

The advertiser may be just as trustworthy as the reporter who files the news dispatch, or the editor who writes the leader of his paper, but we submit that the reader, in justice to himself, should analyze the the impressions he gains from his daily reading.

Mr. Dooley's formula is not sufficient.

THE CRIMINAL

An incident which has just occurred in one of the criminal courts in New York, is exciting considerable comment.

Edwin D. Wheelock, a Wall street broker, having been summoned to jury duty, was interrogated and sworn in, a jury to try two boys charged with crime.

As soon as Wheelock learned the nature of the case he asked to be excused. The judge asked, "Why do you wish to be excused from this case?" "Because, your honor," he replied, "the chief criminal is not before the bar."

"What do you mean by 'Chief criminal?' Who is the chief criminal?" asked the judge. Wheeler replied: "Society at large is the chief criminal, your honor; society perpetuates conditions which breed criminals, tempts men to crime and rewards them if they are sufficiently skillful in crime."

"I never heard of such a thing," replied the judge. "Do you mean to say that if one of your clerks stole a lot of your bonds you would excuse him and charge it to society?"

"I would not hold him guiltless," replied the juror, "but I should know that but for our vicious social system the clerk would have no temptation to steal. If society were being tried I would gladly sit as a juror, but under the circumstances I do not wish to be a party to convicting these boys of a crime."

The judge excused Wheelock from the jury and from the panel.

This would seem to have closed the incident. But Wheelock's part has just begun. He has been receiving numerous letters from business men, reformers, authors, physicians, state prisoners, unfortunate women and others, all commending his stand and expressing surprise that a judge of experience "never" should have heard of such a thing.

Was his stand correct? What will happen if all men took such a stand? How would individual crime be punished? On the other hand, has he not pointed to a condition well worth attention? Is not society in large part, at least, responsible for the kind of men and women who make up its quality? Has a boy or girl reared in slums as good a chance to be honest, high-minded, clean and capable as one reared under ideal environment? Wheelock has performed a useful service at least, in raising the question.

VELIE

Prices Reduced to Bed Rock Figures

VELIE PRICES have always been indicative of a real intrinsic value in automobile construction. Never has the Velie been overpriced due to an exceptional demand. Never has Velie exacted more than a deserved and living profit.

No thinking person will for a moment contend that an honestly-made, fairly-priced automobile has become less valuable today than it was a few days ago—BUT to aid in the pre-war price movement, Velie has thrown all profits to the wind and will take a sharp loss in every car sold at the following prices.

Velie Six--Model 34, new price, $1385.00

In addition to a cut of $200.00 the car is equipped with cord ties, giving the greatest value in the Light Six Field today.

Velie Six--Model 48, new price, $1885.00

Here at its new price you are offered the very latest in body design and the most desirable of all motor car units. Comparison tells the story.

IT GOES WITHOUT SAYING that these prices cannot hold unless Velie is enabled to replace the present costly inventory with new material at lower prices.

Here is an opportunity to obtain a high quality Velie Six at a price more attractive than those prevailing elsewhere in the Automobile field. These low prices may be of short duration. Let us demonstrate to you today.
